REPORT OF THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR TO THE MEMBERS OF EAAGADS LIMITED

Report on the financial statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Eaagads Limited set out on pages 5 to 30. These financial statements comprise the balance sheet at 31 December 2008, and the profit and loss account, statement of changes in equity and cash flow statement for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes.

Directors' responsibility for the financial statements

The directors are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards and with the requirements of the Kenyan Companies Act. This responsibility includes: designing, implementing and maintaining internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; selecting and applying appropriate accounting policies; and making accounting estimates that are reasonable in the circumstances.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform our audit to obtain reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the state of the company's financial affairs at 31 December 2008 and of its profit and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards and the Kenyan Companies Act.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all years presented, unless otherwise stated.

(a) Basis of preparation

The financial statements are prepared in compliance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The measurement basis applied is the historical cost basis, except where otherwise stated in the accounting policies below. The financial statements are presented in Kenya Shillings (Shs), rounded to the nearest thousand.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of estimates and assumptions. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the company's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements, are disclosed in Note 3.

Interpretations effective in 2008

In 2008, the following new interpretations became effective for the first time but have not had an impact on the company's financial statements:

- IFRIC 11 – IFRS 2 - Group and treasury share transactions
- IFRIC 12 – Service Concession Arrangements
- IFRIC 14 – IAS 19 - The limit on a defined benefit asset; minimum funding requirements and their interaction
- IAS 39 and IFRS 7 – Reclassification of financial assets

Standards, interpretations and amendments to published standards that are not yet effective

One new standard (IFRS 8 – Operating Segments) and numerous amendments to existing standards and new interpretations have been published and will be effective for the company's accounting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2009, but the company has not early adopted any of them.

Notes (continued)

The Directors have assessed the relevance of the new standard and interpretations, and amendments to existing standards with respect to the company's operations and concluded that they will not have any impact on the company's financial statements, other than for the amendments to IAS 1 - Presentation of Financial Statements, which will require non-owner changes in equity to be presented in a 'Comprehensive Statement of Income'.

(b) Segment reporting

A business segment is a group of assets and operations engaged in providing products or services that are subject to risks and returns that are different from those of other business segments. A geographical segment is engaged in providing products or services within a particular economic environment that are subject to risks and returns that are different from those of segments operating in other economic environments.

The directors consider the company to comprise one business segment, agriculture, and one geographical segment, Kenya. Hence no segment reporting is presented.

(c) Revenue recognition

Revenue comprises the fair value of the consideration received or receivable for the sale of goods and services in the ordinary course of the company's activities. Revenue is shown net of value-added tax (VAT), rebates and discounts. Revenue is recognised as follows:

The company recognises revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured, it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the company and when specific criteria have been met for each of the company's activities as described below. The amount of revenue is not considered to be reliably measurable until all contingencies relating to the sale have been resolved. The company bases its estimates on historical results, taking into consideration the type of customer, the type of transaction and the specifics of each arrangement.

- (i) Sales of produce other than by auction are recognised in the period in which the Company delivers products to the customer, the customer has accepted the products and collectability of the related receivables is reasonably assured. Sales by auction are recognised upon the fall of the hammer for confirmed bids;
- (ii) Sales of services are recognised in the period in which the services are rendered, by reference to completion of the specific transaction assessed on the basis of the actual service provided as a proportion of the total services to be provided;
- (iii) Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis using the effective interest method.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

(d) Functional currency and translation of foreign currencies

(i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates ('the functional currency'). The financial statements are presented in Kenya Shillings, which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities, denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the profit and loss account.

Foreign exchange gains and losses that relate to borrowings and cash and cash equivalents are presented in the profit and loss account within 'finance income or cost'. All other foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the profit and loss account within 'other (losses)/gains-net'.

(e) Property, plant and equipment

All categories of property, plant and equipment are initially recorded at cost. Buildings and freehold land and plant and machinery are subsequently shown at market value, based on periodic, but at least triennial, valuations by external independent valuers, less subsequent depreciation for buildings. All other property, plant and equipment is stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the profit and loss account during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Increases in the carrying amount arising on revaluation are credited to a revaluation surplus reserve in equity. Decreases that offset previous increases of the same asset are charged against the revaluation surplus; all other decreases are charged to the profit and loss account. Each year the difference between depreciation based on the revalued carrying amount of the asset (the depreciation charged to the profit and loss account) and depreciation based on the asset's original cost is transferred from the revaluation surplus to retained earnings.

Freehold land is not depreciated. Depreciation on other assets is calculated using the straight line method to allocate their cost or revalued amounts less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, as follows:

| | |
|------------------------------|---------------|
| Buildings | 25 - 50 years |
| Plant and machinery | 10 - 15 years |
| Equipment and motor vehicles | 3 - 8 years |

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

(e) Property, plant and equipment

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each balance sheet date.

Property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units).

Gains and losses on disposal of property, plant and equipment are determined by reference to their carrying amounts and are included in the profit and loss account. On disposal of revalued assets, amounts in the revaluation surplus relating to that asset are transferred to retained earnings.

(f) Biological assets

Biological assets are measured on initial recognition and at each balance sheet date at fair value less estimated point-of-sale costs. Any gains or losses arising on initial recognition of biological assets and from subsequent changes in fair value less estimated point-of-sale costs are recognised in the profit and loss account in the year in which they arise. The fair value of coffee bushes and forestry is determined based on the net present values of expected future cash flows, discounted at current market-determined pre-tax rates.

All costs of planting, upkeep and maintenance of biological assets are recognised in the profit and loss account under cost of production in the period in which they are incurred.

(g) Accounting for leases

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are charged to the profit and loss account on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

(h) Inventories

Agricultural produce at the point of harvest is measured at fair value less estimated point-of-sale costs. Any changes arising on initial recognition of agricultural produce at fair value less estimated point-of-sale costs are recognised in the profit and loss account in the year in which they arise. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined by the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method. The cost of finished goods and work in progress comprises raw materials, direct labour, other direct costs and related production overheads (based on normal operating capacity), but excludes borrowing costs.

The fair value less estimated point-of-sale costs of coffee at the point of harvest is determined based on the market prices of the final product, taking into account conversion costs.

Other inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined by the weighted average method.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

(i) Receivables

Receivables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. A provision for impairment of receivables is established when there is objective evidence that the company will not be able to collect all the amounts due according to the original terms of receivables. The amount of the provision is the difference between the carrying amount and the present value of expected cash flows, discounted at the effective interest rate. The amount of the provision is recognised in the profit and loss account.

(j) Payables

Payables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(k) Borrowings

Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently stated at amortised cost using the effective interest method; any differences between proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in the profit and loss account over the period of the borrowings.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the company has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the balance sheet date.

(l) Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as 'share capital' in equity.

(m) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities on the balance sheet.

(n) Employee benefits

(i) Post-employment benefit obligations

For its unionised employees, the company has an unfunded obligation to pay terminal gratuities under its Collective Bargaining Agreement with the union. Employees who voluntarily resign after serving the employer for ten years and above shall be entitled to service gratuity at the rate of ten days pay for every completed year of service. The liability recognised in the balance sheet is the present value of the estimated future cash outflows, calculated annually by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method. Any increase or decrease in the provision is taken to the profit and loss account.

The company operates a defined contribution post-employment benefit scheme for non-unionised employees. A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the company pays fixed contributions into a separate entity. The company has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees the benefits relating to employees service in the current and prior periods.

(n) Employee benefits (continued)

The assets of the scheme are held in separate trustee administered funds, which is funded by contributions from both the company and employees. The company and all its employees also contribute to the statutory National Social Security Fund, which is a defined contribution scheme. The company's contributions to both these defined contribution schemes are charged to the profit and loss account in the year in which they fall due.

(ii) Other entitlements

Employee entitlements to long service awards are recognised when they accrue to employees. A provision is made for the estimated liability for such entitlements as a result of services rendered by employees up to the balance sheet date.

The estimated monetary liability for employees' accrued annual leave entitlement at the balance sheet date is recognised as an expense accrual.

(o) Income tax

Income tax expense is the aggregate of the charge to the profit and loss account in respect of current income tax and deferred income tax. Tax is recognised in the profit and loss account unless it relates to items recognised directly in equity, in which case it is also recognised directly in equity. Current income tax is the amount of income tax payable on the taxable profit for the year determined in accordance with the Kenyan Income Tax Act.

Deferred income tax is recognised, using the liability method, on all temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying values for financial reporting purposes. However, the deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

(p) Dividends

Dividends payable to the company's shareholders are charged to equity in the period in which they are declared. Proposed dividends are shown as a separate component of equity until declared.

Notes (continued)

3 Critical accounting estimates and judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including experience of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

(i) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

Biological assets

Critical assumptions are made by the directors in determining the fair values of biological assets. The carrying amounts of the biological assets and key assumptions made in estimating these amounts are set out in Note 18.

Post-employment benefit obligations

Critical assumptions are made by the actuary in determining the present value of retirement benefit obligations. The carrying amount of the provision and the key assumptions made in estimating the provision are set out in Note 16.

(ii) Critical judgements in applying the entity's accounting policies

In the process of applying the company's accounting policies, management has made judgements in determining:

- the classification of financial assets and leases
- whether assets are impaired.

4 Financial risk management objectives and policies

The company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: currency risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The company's overall risk management programme focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on its financial performance, but the company does not hedge any risks.

Market risk

(i) Foreign exchange risk

The company is exposed to foreign exchange risks arising from various currency exposures, primarily with respect to the US dollar. The sales of the company are in US dollars and the main expenses are in local currency (Kenya shilling). There are no forward sales of US dollars. The US dollars are sold on a daily basis to meet obligations in shillings.

At 31 December 2008, if the Shilling had weakened/strengthened by 3% against the US dollar with all other variables held constant, the impact on pre tax profit for the year would have been insignificant.

(ii) Price risk

The company does not hold any financial instruments subject to price risk.

(iii) Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

The company has borrowings in Shillings. The loan from Socfinol Limited, the parent company, is interest free and had no fixed repayment period.

Notes (continued)

4 Financial risk management objectives and policies

Credit risk

Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, deposits with banks, as well as trade and other receivables.

The company sells its coffee mainly through the Coffee Board of Kenya's auction. However, the coffee market was liberalised in 2006 and the company is also able to sell its coffee through direct sales.

When the coffee is sold through the auction, the sales proceeds should be paid within 7 and 14 days to the marketing agent and final grower respectively. The marketing agent of the company does not release the coffee warrants, that is, title of the coffee, before receiving the sales proceeds from the buyer.

Bad debts are monitored closely and are minimal and when they occur are fully provided by the company.

The company has no significant concentrations of credit risk.

The amount that best represents the company's maximum exposure to credit risk at 31 December 2008 is made up as follows:

| | 2008 Shs'000 | 2007 Shs'000 |
|------------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Cash at bank | 585 | 532 |
| Receivables from related companies | 344 | - |
| Other receivables | 5,428 | 3,534 |
| | <hr/> | <hr/> |
| | 6,357 | 4,066 |
| | <hr/> | <hr/> |

None of the above assets are either past due or impaired. No collateral is held for any of the above assets. The company does not grade the credit quality of receivables. All receivables that are neither past due nor impaired are within their approved credit limits, and no receivables have had their terms renegotiated.

None of the above assets are either past due or impaired. The customers under the fully performing category are paying their debts as they continue trading. The default rate is low.

Notes (continued)

4 Financial risk management objectives and policies (continued)

Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management includes maintaining sufficient cash balances, and the availability of funding from an adequate amount of committed credit facilities. Due to the dynamic nature of the underlying businesses, management maintains flexibility in funding by maintaining available facilities under committed credit lines.

Management monitors rolling forecasts of the company's liquidity reserve on the basis of expected cash flow at the group level. The expected cash flows are updated by treasury and reported to management and the directors on a monthly basis. Every week the liquidity position is updated and reported to the management and the Directors showing the receipts and payments within the week.

The table below analyses the company's financial liabilities that will be settled on a net basis into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date. The amounts disclosed in the table below are the contractual undiscounted cash flows. Balances due within 12 months equal their carrying balances, as the impact of discounting is not significant.

| Balance at 1 January 2007, 31 December 2007 and 31 December 2008 | 8,039 | 10,049 | - |

The total authorised number of ordinary shares is 20,000,000 with a par value of Shs 1.25 per share. This is after a resolution passed at an extraordinary general meeting held on 22 December 2008 to increase the authorised share capital from Shs 12,500,000 divided into 10,000,000 ordinary shares of Shs 1.25 each to Shs 25,000,000 by the creation of an additional 10,000,000 new ordinary shares of Shs 1.25 each to rank pari passu in all respects with the existing ordinary shares in the capital of the company.

All issued shares are fully paid.

A resolution was also passed at the extraordinary general meeting held on 22 December 2008 to issue bonus shares by capitalisation of Shs 10,049,063 of the retained earnings as at 31 December 2007. The amount is to be applied to full payment of 8,039,250 additional shares of Shs 1.25 each to be issued to ordinary shareholders in the proportion of one new ordinary share for every one ordinary share held. The new shares would rank pari passu in all respects with the existing ordinary shares in the capital of the company. This was subject to Capital Markets Authority (CMA) approval before issue and allotment.

The company received CMA approval on 12 March 2009. Hence these financial statements do not reflect this bonus issue. However, the bonus shares will qualify for payment of the proposed dividend set out in Note 11.

14. Revaluation surplus

The revaluation surplus represents solely the surplus on the revaluation of buildings and freehold land net of deferred income tax and is non-distributable.

17 Property, plant and equipment (continued)

Buildings and freehold land and plant and machinery were last revalued during 2006, by C.B.Richard Ellis Limited, Nairobi, Kenya, independent valuers. Valuations were made on the basis of the open market value. The book values of the properties were adjusted to the revaluations and the resultant surplus net of deferred income tax was credited to the revaluation surplus in shareholders' equity.

If property, plant and equipment were stated on the historical cost basis, the amounts would be as follows:

Coffee bushes and forestry are carried at fair value less estimated point-of-sale costs. The fair values were determined based on the discounted net present values of expected net cash flows from those assets, discounted at a current market-determined pre-tax rate. In determining the fair values, the directors have made certain assumptions about the yields and market prices in future years, and costs of running the estates.

The key assumptions made concerning the future (projected over 30 years in respect of coffee bushes and 15 years in respect of forestry) are as follows:

- Climatic conditions will remain the same;
- The market price of coffee, in constant price dollar terms, will be US$ 3.384 (2007: US $ 3.051) per ton;
- Expected yields from existing coffee bushes will increase progressively from 1.90 ton clean per mature hectare to an average of 2.0 tons as from 2010;
- No coffee bushes will be uprooted in the next 30 years;
- The sales proceeds are converted into Kenya Shillings at an exchange rate of 71.9175 (2007: 67.38) to the US$;
- The market price of timber, in constant price shilling terms, will be Shs 3.000 (2007: Shs 3.000) per cubic metre;
- Forest density is 1,333,400 and 333 trees per ha for new, coppiced and old trees respectively;
- Expected yields from existing trees is 0.09, 0.45 and 0.5 cubic meters for new, coppiced and old trees respectively;

The constant price discount rate applied to the expected net US dollar cash flows was 10.5% (2007: 13%) for coffee, and to the shilling cash flows was 17% (2007: 17%) for timber.

The company has 183 hectares of mature coffee bushes and 10 hectares of immature coffee bushes located in the major coffee growing areas of the country. The company also has 5 hectares of forestry.
